Ponderings

Happy Father's Day! We wish all fathers, grandfathers, godfathers, stepfathers and so many other 'father figures' a wonderful day with family. We keep in our prayers all of our fathers who have died. My own dad died in 1995. It is hard to believe he has been gone for so many years. If he were still alive, he'd be 109 years old!

I was thinking about the topic for this week's 'Ponderings' and came up with this question: What is the role of the father in passing on the faith to his children? It might be a question that we reflect upon as we honor our fathers. How did they help me grow in my faith? How did they convey to me the importance of coming to Mass and receiving the other sacraments?

I came across a study about the 'generational transmission of faith and religious values' that was conducted in Europe in 1994. The findings were released in 2000. The author of the article about this study does admit that it is a rather obscure study---but one worth considering!

In short, the study reveals: "It is the religious practice of the father of the family that, above all, determines the future attendance at or absence from church of the children." That caught my attention. I had always thought that mothers had a more prominent role in the passing on of the faith. So.....I read more of the article!

The study reports:

1. If both father and mother attend regularly, 33 percent of their children will end up as regular churchgoers, and 41 percent will end up attending irregularly. Only a quarter of their children will end up not practicing at all.
2. If the father is irregular and mother regular, only 3 percent of the children will subsequently become regulars themselves, while a further 59 percent will become irregulars. Thirty-eight percent will be lost.
3. If the father is non-practicing and mother regular, only 2 percent of children will become regular worshippers and 37 percent will attend regularly. Over 60 percent of their children will be lost completely to the church.

What happens if the father is regular but the mother irregular or non-practicing? Amazingly, the percentage of children becoming regular goes up from 33 percent to 38 percent with the irregular mother and up to 44 percent with the non-practicing. This suggests that loyalty to the father's commitment grows in response to the mother's laxity or indifference to religion.

In short, if a father does not go to church---no matter how faithful his wife's devotions---only one child in 50 will become a regular worshiper. If a father does go regularly, regardless of the practice of the mother, between two thirds and three quarters of their children will become churchgoers (regular and irregular).

Certainly, both the practice of the father and mother has an impact on their children when it comes to practicing the faith. This study was just "food for thought"-----for Father's Day-----considering the role fathers play in passing on the faith.

I do not hold that every study has 100 percent accuracy. (This study included a variety of Christian groups/ it was not exclusively a 'Catholic' group that was studied). I do think that it is worth our own reflection on the role our fathers played in passing on the faith-----and how fathers today are called upon to take that role of passing on the faith with humility, honesty and conviction. Thanks, Dads..... for helping to pass on the faith.

A Father's' Prayer

O God, Giver of Life and Father of us all, help me to be the kind of father to my children that You are to me.

May I love them unconditionally, forgive them when they fail, counsel them when they doubt, lift them up when they fall, guide them in the darkness and walk beside them in the light.

Show me, Loving Father, how to teach them, to play with them, to share with them and to pray with them. Thank You for my children; thank You for my role as a father. Amen.

Becoming a Catholic—or “making up my sacraments”
Where do I begin?

Are you someone who was baptized a Catholic but have not received First Communion or Confirmation? Are you someone who was baptized in another Christian church and would like to become Catholic? Are you someone who has never been baptized? The Church has a program known by the initials, R.C.I.A. (Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults). It is a process---a series of classes---whereby you prepare to receive one or more of the following: Baptism, Holy Communion, Confirmation. After a time of preparation, you would receive these sacraments at the Easter Vigil (Holy Saturday). This celebration for adults receiving sacraments happens in Catholic churches all of the world at the Easter Vigil! Yes, you can receive these sacraments as adults! Maybe you are embarrassed because you have not received these sacraments---don't be embarrassed! Maybe you are unsure if you can 'learn what you need to know'---don't be worried---we'll help you through! Maybe you are worried about what others may think--don't worry what others might think---you are doing this to grow in your faith---to grow closer to God! Don't let any stumbling blocks get in the way! This might be the opportunity you have been waiting for! Classes will begin in the Fall. Before that time, please contact the parish office or speak with Fr. Gaffney. He can answer any questions you may have.
